Special Correspondence

Barberville, June 27.—The news has just reached here that Messrs. Morrison & Byrd's still, near Pierson, was burned yesterday; have not heard the particulars.

Mrs. Bessie Skinner, of Webster, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Niel Morrison, of this village.

Mr. Jack Douglas, city editor of the Tampa Daily Globe, is visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blackwelder, for a few days.

The farmers around here are putting in egg plants for their fall crop. Mr. J. S. Herbert expects to put in about three acres.

The writers of that famous petition from Pierson, published in the Record last week, gave Mr. Jones an enviable reputation, when they had to go back ten years in his life to find one bad action. Many of us would not have to go back so many months to find some wrong we had done. Petitioners, try to make a conscientious examination of self and see how you stand before your Creator and your fellow-man. May God help us to first see our own errors.

We can differ in our opinions of right and wrong and still be neighbors. Let us reason together. God will hold the man or men strictly to account who create and keep up strife among his neighbors.

One man, whose name appears on that famous petition from Pierson published in the Record last week, told the writer in the presence of two other men, that the whiskey was there, that he drank of it and that he hadn't much faith in the man that would give it out and then deny it. How could he?

Mr. Redden Long has been on the sick list. He is better and has returned to his work at DeLand.

We are glad to see Mr. J. D. Heacock is able to be out again. He went to Daytona today with some fresh eggs. He makes the trip weekly when well.

Mr. S. E. Semmon has some fine Poland China pigs now about four months old that will weigh 60 or 70 pounds. He has the pure stock.

Mr. Ira Henderson passed through this village on the 27th inst., en route from Orlando to Jacksonville by private conveyance. From there he will go to the mountains of North Carolina.

WALKER-STITH.

Jacksonville Times-Union, Wednesday.

The marriage of Miss Julia King Stith and Mr. Edward J. Walker at the home of bride's sister, Mrs. D. A. Morrison, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, was a very quiet affair. Only a few friends were present.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel C. Stith, pastor of the First Methodist church, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride and groom.

Mrs. D. A. Morrison was matron of honor, while Miss Walker of Atlanta, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were the Misses Flanders, of Daytona, and Miss Martha English, of Jacksonville.

Pretty little Miss Elizabeth Butler, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Butler, was the flower girl. Mr. Jack Stith, a brother of the bride, was best man.

The wedding march was played by Miss Isabel Chadwick, a talented musician and friend of the bride. The bridesmaids' costumes were rose pink and their bouquets were of lovely pink roses. Both the maid and matron of honor were gowned in white and carried white roses. Miss Stith is a brunette in coloring, and was lovely in her wedding gown, a princess model of messaline satin embroidered with trailing sprays of white roses, entirely hand-made by the clever fingers of the bride's sister, Mrs. Morrison. The yoke of Louise lace was also her handiwork. The bride veil was a tulle worn with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The young couple will leave today on the Arapahoe for New York on their wedding trip. Their future home will be in Atlanta. Miss Stith's going away gown is made in princess fashion of blue taffeta with garniture of white, and her becoming hat matches this stylish toilette.

The wedding was one of unusual interest on account of the beauty and popularity of the bride and the high esteem in which Mr. Walker is held by his friends at Jacksonville. Mr. Walker makes his home in Atlanta, where he is the Southeastern passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, but lived for seven years in Jacksonville, while holding a responsible position with the same road.
